

PugetSoundPartnership

our sound, our community, our chance

Habitat/Land Use

Comments Submitted at Topic Forum

4/14/2008 – 5/9/2008

From: John Kounts

Date: 05/05/2008

Comment: The effects land development (impervious surfaces) on watershed performances and stream flows may often be more significant than water withdrawals from wells or surface water diversions. This fact needs to be a key part of setting priorities for action and determining where the "best bang for the buck" can be found in improving watershed/quantity conditions.